

Two women are seated at the far end of the table, focused on their work. One woman is using a hot glue gun to attach a piece of material to a wreath base, while the other is handling a long, thin, pinkish object, possibly a decorative element or a piece of fabric.

In the background, a man in a grey hoodie and a woman in a black and white striped shirt are also working at the table. The man is looking down at his work, and the woman is standing and looking towards the camera.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a black sweater with white patterns, is seated at the table. She is using a hot glue gun to attach a red and white decorative element to a wreath. She is looking intently at her work.

In the foreground, a woman with blonde hair, wearing a grey top, is using a hot glue gun to work on a black wreath. She is looking down at her work, and her hands are steady as she applies the glue.

A small white box filled with various Christmas ornaments, including red, gold, and silver ones, sits on the table. The ornaments are arranged in a neat row, and some are already attached to the wreaths.

A black wreath with gold and red accents is lying on the table. It is made of a dark material, possibly felt or fabric, and is decorated with gold and red ornaments and greenery.

A box of green artificial Christmas trees or branches is sitting on the table. The box is open, and the greenery is visible inside.

A box of hot glue sticks is sitting on the table. The box is green and black, and it has the words "HOT GLUE STICKS" and "18" printed on it.

A red and white patterned cup is sitting on the table. The cup is filled with a liquid, and it has a festive design on it.
